NewCo Executive Writes Book

Glassboro, N.J. (Sept. 27, 2010) – Mavis Speakes, assistant vice president of human resources at NewCo, has written a book entitled Women of Color in the Workplace. The book was released last week by St. James Press, New York City.

Women of Color discusses Speakes' experiences as an African-American woman in the workplace. In the book, Speakes also includes the experiences of other minority women throughout the country.

“It was fascinating to hear other women’s stories,” commented Speakes. “I am very passionate about the subject.”

Speakes has worked at NewCo since 1998. She has a bachelor’s degree in history from Howard University and a master’s degree in education from Glassboro State College. Speakes resides in Mullica Hill, N.J., with her husband, Donald Speakes, and their three children. Speakes is a Deomocratic representative on the town council in Mullica Hill.
